Follow the voice of your dreams this Valentine's Day with TomTom

~ Get Brad, Sean, Kylie or Claudia in your car this February ~

19 January 2008 – "You have reached your destination..." whispers the sultry voice of Kylie, as you take the last turn into your drive. "Wow – thanks Kylie – I couldn't have done it without you." All in your head? Not any more! TomTom is offering four of the most desirable voices* for Valentine's Day this year, completely free of charge, with every purchase of a TomTom sat nav between 7 and 21 February 2009.

The dreamy voice of Brad, Kylie, Sean or Claudia will soon be taking you to your chosen destination – simply connect the new sat nav to TomTom's easy to use software, TomTom HOME, and download the voices to the device – it takes just a couple of minutes.

There's a TomTom product suitable for every driver and every budget, so put some direction into your loved one's life with the gift they'll want to listen to all day! All models are available now from Halfords, Comet, Currys.Digital, Amazon, John Lewis and all good electrical retailers.
